TWO IMPORTANT BOOKS

HOCH DER KAISER, MYSELF UND GOTT

By A. McGREGOR ROSE (A. M. R. GORDON)

This remarkable poem, which made a sensation in two hemispheres, and the recital of which by an American naval officer at a dinner in New York nearly cost him his captaincy and embroiled the United States with Germany, is here presented with appropriate and striking original illustrations by Miss JESSIE A. WALKER. It is a work of art.

FOR SALE BY ALL BOOKSELLERS.

WILLIAM S. WALSH says: "I dare assert that of the historical romances that have lately appeared none is better than 'The Tower of Wye.' It is a joyous story, redolent of youth and spring and the glory of the morning."

L. DE V. MATTHEWMAN says: "It has in it the making of a brilliant success, and should be as popular as any of the recent historical romances of America. Its pages are peopled, not with lay figures, but with living creatures; the scenes are not surface paintings, but landscapes and seascapes in relief. The style of the narrative is very pleasant—clear, epigrammatic and breathing the spirit of the time. The quaint, subtle humor fits the story and the style. The love interest is strong and natural, without any taint of modern erotism. The superstitious spirit of the age is clearly shown. . . . Is it not as real as 'Robinson Crusoe'?"

OCTAVE THANET says: "It seems to me the best thing you have done, and Richard Smith a right valiant noble gentleman. You have, I think, caught the very spirit of the time."

.... PUBLISHED APRIL 30th ....

In Search of Mademoiselle.

By GEORGE GIBBS. Illustrated by the author.

List Price, - - $1.50

Mr. Gibbs, the artist, in this his first novel, deals with the romantic and highly picturesque episode in American history of the struggle between the French and Spanish for the possession of Florida. This furnishes the background for a charming story of the love of an Englishman, who goes with the French upon their expeditions, and Diane de la Notte, a French Huguenot of noble family, who has been exiled from her native land.

CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY says: "Mr. George Gibbs has chosen the most romantic and terrible episode in the whole range of American-Colonial annals as the historical basis of his vivid romance. He writes as he paints, with graphic force and spirit."

JOHN HABBERTON writes: "I've read your 'In Search of Mademoiselle' with great interest. I must congratulate you on your success in retaining throughout the novel the old-time atmosphere in which you began. No writer of historical novels has done this better than you; few have done it so well."

HENRY T. COATES & CO., Publishers, Philadelphia.
